Welcome to the University of London External System Open Days in the Caribbean

Join our prestigious alumni by gaining a University of London degree by External study. This is a cost-effective and convenient way to achieve an internationally recognised qualification. At our Open Days you can come and meet University of London academic and admission staff and find out more.

Four reasons to study with the University of London

■ Proven quality

We have robust quality assurance processes, which have been endorsed by a UK independent body which safeguards the quality and standards of Higher Education.

■ Your career

Our graduates go on to work for leading law firms and companies including Shell, Unilever, IBM, BP and Powergen, both in the Caribbean and further afield.

■ Skills for life

The critical thinking, analytical and organisational skills you will develop will serve you throughout your life.

■ Local support

Operating within our quality assurance framework, a number of institutions in the Caribbean offer tuition support to our students.

If you live in Trinidad and Tobago, you can apply for financial assistance through the Government Assistance for Tuition Expenses Programme (GATE) to cover the cost of tuition at local institutions registered with the Accreditation Council of Trinidad and Tobago.

Typical costs to study for a degree through the University of London External System are given below. Please note that if you choose to attend a local college you will pay additional fees to those listed below.

Profile: Sheldon Branche

'I am currently working as a Corporate Attorney in one of the largest conglomerates in the Caribbean. The wealth of knowledge and experience I am gaining and will gain over time will be priceless.'

A Bachelor of Laws (LLB) graduate, Sheldon works as a Corporate Attorney in Trinidad.

How do I study?

You may study independently or attend classes on a full-time or part-time basis at a local teaching institution.

Entrance requirements

For all programmes you must satisfy both the general entrance requirements as well as the course-specific requirements. Please see the individual prospectuses for full details or visit our website: www.londonexternal.ac.uk

Undergraduate study

Our Access route and diplomas provide an entrance route to our undergraduate degrees for those who do not meet the entrance requirements. Our general entrance requirements are given in terms of UK GCSE/ GCE 'O' level and 'A' level passes. The local equivalent entrance requirements are:

- The Caribbean Advanced Proficiency Examination (CAPE) (equivalent to GCE 'A' levels): full award of 6 units including 2 double-unit courses satisfies the full general entrance requirement for our undergraduate degree programmes.
- The equivalents for GCSE/CGE 'O' levels are: The Caribbean Secondary Education Certificate (grades I, II and III at the General Proficiency level), in and after June 1998 and the Caribbean Secondary Education Certificate (grades I and II at the General Proficiency level), up to and including January 1998.

The Qualifications for Entrance section in our prospectus lists further qualifications from the West Indies which we also accept.

The deadline for receipt in London of application forms for undergraduate programmes is 17 September 2010, but we recommend that you apply as early as possible for your programme.

Postgraduate study

For entrance requirements for postgraduate courses, please see the relevant individual prospectus. Please note that application deadline dates vary for postgraduate programmes.

Profile: Cheryl Brown

'Graduating with an LLB through the University of London External System is one of the best things I've ever done and has given me many career options and opportunities which I had not had before. It was an ideal option for me as I was able to continue to work full-time and look after my children while I studied.'

Cheryl Brown features in the International Who's Who of Business and Professional Women. An attorney in Jamaica, she is currently Jamaica's representative on a UNESCO committee in Paris.

Profile: Treina Dinoo

'My career is in environmental management so my degree was very relevant. The degree provided me with the analytical and technical skills I need and also helped me improve my time-management, self-motivation, adaptability and creativity. After completing my degree I got a promotion. I now intend to study for a Masters degree. There are no words that can accurately describe that feeling of accomplishment when I discovered that I had achieved a first class honours degree.'

A BSc Geography and Environment graduate, Treina works as an Environmental Programme Officer.

Supporting institutions in the Caribbean

We have created a system of recognition for institutions which operate within our quality assurance framework, to help guide potential students and their parents in their choice of institution. There are two categories of recognised institutions, Registered Centres and Affiliate Centres. Affiliate Centre status means that in the view of the University of London External System, the institution has demonstrated a sustained commitment to high standards in respect of the teaching, support and administration of University of London External System students. Registered

Centre status means that in the view of the University of London External System, the institution has acceptable standards for the purpose of supporting University of London External System students in their preparations for examinations.

Please note: For an up-to-date list of recognised centres and details of the programmes they are recognised to provide support for and at which campuses, please check the directory of institutions: www.londonexternal.ac.uk/online/search/institutions
